

the app has a mode for testing projects. In this mode integrators can launch projects on their panels without using additional software to test its work.