After adding the subdevices via the scanner or Setup, the user may have a need to add other subdevices. To ensure this, module developer has to assign the system variable